DESCRIPTION

The Roxby Road Industrial Estate comprises a modern industrial development of 22 industrial units laid out in 6 terraces together with a single stand-alone unit. The units are serviced by a single estate road from Enterprise Way with 3 separate spurs and the units face onto a shared central service yard area and benefit from their own dedicated parking and access to the front of each unit.

The units are constructed of a portal steel frame construction with brick and blockwork to a height of approximately 2m with profile steel cladding thereafter to the side elevations and pitched roof which incorporates translucent panels, to provide good levels of natural daylight.

Internally, some of the units have been divided to provide office accommodation, others have been left as clear span workshop space but each unit benefits from its own WC and kitchen facilities and are accessed via roller shutter doors from the yard area together with a single personnel door.

The units are suitable for a wide range of industrial uses, subject to the obtaining of the appropriate planning consent.
